WITHDRAWN

PREFACE.

The object of this Manual is to supply in some degree a want often felt by persons engaged in the pursuits of Archæology and Ecclesiology, by tourists and lovers of the Fine Arts in general. It was undertaken at first for personal convenience; but continued and completed at the solicitation of valued friends for public utility. It may be found useful for identifying holy personages represented in painting and sculpture; and also to guide the artist in the representation of saints and angels according to conventional and established forms. Its pretensions are very humble: the subject might be pursued far more elaborately and extensively: and the work would be advantageously illustrated by engravings. But this could not be without sacrificing the convenience of a pocket companion: and to keep within a portable size, is in a work of this kind a primary consideration. The church tourist and the inspector of picture galleries require a guide of ready reference and easy portability; and such a Manual is presented in the following pages.

That the tourist and the artist may equally find their convenience in this compilation, it is divided into two distinct parts. In the First, under the name of the Saint,—whether Martyr, Bishop, &c. and the date of his death, or the age in which he flourished, as far as could be ascertained with tolerably accuracy,—the emblem or various emblems are given, with which he is found represented in works of art, whether in painting, carving in stone, or wood, or engraving. To each emblem is generally appended a reference to one or more examples in art, or to some work, upon the authority of which the emblem has been appropriated. In selecting these examples, preference has been given to paintings on roodscreens, or glass; and to sculptured figures on fonts, still remaining in English parish churches, and abounding in the counties of Norfolk and Suffolk. It would have been easy to multiply such examples, and chiefly from personal inspection; but the object of this little work is sufficiently attained by presenting a few select instances.

To compile a Manual of this kind, even limited as it is, would have been impracticable without the aid of friends, and the assistance of previous publications. Thanks are eminently due to the Noble Earl of Shrewsbury for much valuable information from the stores of his rich library, which his Lordship condescended to collect himself, and transmit at intervals with the most generous kindness. Dawson Turner, Esq. of Yarmouth, merits also especial thanks for the lively interest which he has taken in this work, and the readiness with which he has afforded access to the treasures of his very extensive library and vast collection of illustrations of Norfolk. Mrs. Jameson's splendid Work, Sacred and Legendary Art, has by the kind permission of its authoress, been frequently referred to in the course of this Manual, and has afforded much valuable information. The Rev. Canon Rock, D. D. is heartily thanked for several important and valuable communications, as well as for the loan of scarce and curious old books. The Rev. Richard Hart, of Catton, generously permitted the free use of his own List of Emblems of Saints, communicated to the "Archæological Journal," and this kindness has proved valuable, and is here gratefully acknowledged. Sincere thanks are also tendered to H. Harrod, Esq. and Goddard Johnson, Esq. of Norwich, for the loan of curious and useful works;—and to all other kind friends who have lent their assistance.

The principal Works consulted or referred to in the course of this Manual are the following:—
